

Convict Trash

Run 1779: 28th December 2020

Hare: Hannibal Lector – Hunters Hill

Starters Gun

What a wonderful night for a Hash run. As we drove towards Hunters Hill the drizzle got heavier and heavier, and then it stopped. Were the Hash Gods looking after us after all? The drizzle started again, along with the thunder and lightning, and the pack was cautiously waiting under umbrellas, the wiser ones still in their car or at the hotel. And then it was time to take off, and the heavens opened up and drowned everyone, and off they went to enjoy what would have probably been a very scenic run around Hunters Hill in better weather.

Run Report

Hannibal's Hazardous Humdinger Hustle

No Run Report but Tickle bravely opted to be the Trail Master, and gave a brief but very entertaining review of the run. Great map. Great run in the rain.

Score 10 out of 10

RA's Report

Another stand-in tonight with Hannibal being our RA

Hunters Hill is 9Km's from the city

In the Aboriginal language was called Mookaboola, meaning meeting of the waters.

Hunters Hill was first settled in 1835 and in the early 20th century had a thriving radium and uranium refinery.

That area is now known as 'Kelly's Bush', named after the Mayor of Hunters Hill's wife.
