Convict Trash

Run 1936 - 29/4/24

Hare: Pig – Location: Heathcote

Starters Gun

Welcome back home to the Grewsome family.

What is the highest point in the Sydney Basin?
Elevation: 282 meters, 925 feet

This hill is identified as the highest natural point in the Sydney Basin, with a trig station at 281.88 meters above sea level according to the New South Wales Department of Information Technology and Management. It also looks to be the high point of Heathcote National Park.

Run Report

Run Reporter: Grewsome

the map of the run was sent to the Trail Master as a text message...does the run go clockwise or anticlockwise???

so over the pedestrian bridge we went to an On Back and the road crossing was closed

3.85ks...Pig measured the run to be 5.83ks

Heathcote

originally known as Bottle Forest

changed to Heathcote in 1835 – even before Holeproof's time!

named after a soldier of the Peninsular War's, fought against Napoleon

train station opened in 1886

during WW1 – parts of the bush in the area were used for military training exercises famous feature – Heathcote Hall built in 1887 – in the late 1800's the owner got into financial difficulties so it was sold via a lottery which was won by Mr S. Gillett.

the movie “The Munster’s Scary Little Christmas” was filmed there in the early 1990’s – Pig played the son Eddi Munster... who were the parents? (Herman and Lilly)

Heathcote Hall is now a housing development ...and fortunately most of the Hall is still there

Average house price $1.2 No units.
