Run 1870 – 16th. January 2023

Hare – Grenade's Gargantuan Gallop

After much negotiation Grenade had organised the On On at one of our old haunts – come to think of it they're all old haunts these days – when she was advised if she wanted to book seating at the pub she would have to pay a $10 per head booking fee.

My early recollection on Hash runs was the publican was so bloody happy to see a big group on a Monday night he would give us free booze for the down downs & allow us to have our Circle in the pub. My old mate at the Old Fitzroy even sponsored us to the tune of a few grand one year, in the hope we'd return more often. Those were the days.

Good to see Merkin back from his holiday jaunt to the shaky isles, which relieved some of the pressure from the rest of the committee.

Run Report

Before the start of the run most hashers had decided to seek refuge in the hotel due to the warm weather.

Grenade turned up and let me know that she had almost passed out while setting the run with her sister during the day due to the heat. Then she advised me that it was only a short run so the heat shouldn't be a problem.

As 6.30pm approached most were still in the pub, but slowly emerged with Dundee setting the early pace, closely followed by Blondie, Rabbit, Bingo, Cold Duck and the TM who was suffering after two weeks on the piss.

As we made our way around Kogarah Bay and onto Carrs Park, Hannibal was leading the walking pack and for a long time was well in front to the runners.

Walkers including Taxing, Doc, Dirty Weekend, Dish, Moa Goa. Stop Cock, QR, Slotcard, Ringless & Sir Les (injured) all headed for Carrs Park, followed by Hell I Smell Her and Double Banger who had turned up late.

As the runners headed home some (Dundee and Cold Duck) took a short cut to avoid a massive hill at Mayor Road and then on to the buckets, while Blondie, Bingo and TM finished the entire run and made in back to the buckets and the short 8km run at 7.35pm.

I gave the run report and awarded a 8.5/10 to Grenade who had set an excellent run, minus on backs, in the heat.

Well done Grenade and Happy Birthday for Tuesday.

On On Merkin

Circle:

Merkin was called to administer the last rites to Grenade's run as he forgot again to pass off the obligation to someone else or maybe he just wanted another beer. He reckoned most of what she told him before the run was bullshit & he took 3 points off for something or other & gave it 8.5, which meant he was using 11.5 as the standard. Anyway I'm not going to mention what he said here as he's already said it up there, so:

Over to Doc

There was someone called Barry, who was asking about us but we already had a Barry & you can have too many.

Birthdays

Grenade & there will be no mention of how old but she's happy to admit to being over 40. I think Hell I Smell Her was also a recipient & I believe she's under 40. But I think she was only there to take Grenade's down down.
